

Clean Claims

1. (amended) A kit for isolating nucleic acids from complex starting materials in the absence of chaotropic components by binding nucleic acid to a substrate, the kit comprising a lysis/buffer system comprising at least one antichaotropic salt component and enzymes, a substrate means for binding DNA, a wash buffer comprising at least 50% ethanol, and a low salt elution buffer.